Geasonality

Based on what time of year your wedding is taking place, flowers can be limited or in high supply. Be sure to take into consideration what is available to determine if silk or fresh flowers would be the best option for you.

Longevity

Based on weather, extreme heat or cold can be harmful to fresh blooms, for longevity, silk flowers may be best

Scent

There is no comparison between the aroma that fresh flowers provide. That is not something that can be mimicked with silk blooms. Do also keep in mind some guests may have allergies so scented flowers are not a friend to all.

Bersonal Flowers

There is no comparison when it comes to your personal florals.

Use fresh flowers for your bridal bouquet, boutonniere, bridesmaids bouquets, garlands, hair, jewelry and any other personal flowers

Mixing Fresh & Gilk

Using silk flowers for areas where guests will not touch them is a great compromise: arches, backdrops, stages are a great place for silk flowers and then you can invest fresh flowers where they will be most visibal to your guests as centerpieces.

Budget & Cost

There is definitely a cost difference between fresh and silk flowers, to be cost effective and more practical with your budget, silk flowers are definely the way to go.
